

Letter of Support for the competence center Resilient Energy Systems

Gävle municipality support the application of Mälardalen University (in collaboration with University of Gävle, Uppsala University and Umeå University) to the Swedish Energy Agency call for proposals for competence centers for a sustainable energy system. We believe Resilient Energy Systems will provide a benefit to our community.

We intend to support the Competence Centre by participating in relevant workshops, result seminars, spreading results and other evolving activities.

We believe this Competence Centre will benefit the community by becoming an internationally leading and sustainable center where partners co-create critical research and practice-based knowledge for successful development and implementation of new technologies and practices for Resilient Energy Systems. Activities and outcomes from ongoing research will benefit Gävle municipality by regional growth, innovation, regional competence development.
